Let me start by saying: a domaining life is not an easy work-at-home business as you might think. It takes a lot of time and research to find a valuable, brandable domain.

The most valuable domains have already been registered but you can search for these strong domains in other extensions like .net, .org or .info..

Now, the domaining industry is always growing as new trends and phrases become popular. Do not start registering domains like mad. You need to take a look at the below forums to find some great information about domains and the users on these forums can/will help you out.
